Objective

Our Fixed Income Strategies are rooted in the belief that inefficiencies do exist in the marketplace and, through active management, we can provide value to our clients by taking advantage of these opportunities. We believe that excess return is good, but risk-adjusted excess return is even better. The pursuit of superior returns must be tempered with strong risk management processes.

Process

The fixed income management process is fundamentally driven, disciplined, diversified, and value-oriented. Our process targets four distinct variables which include duration management, yield curve positioning, sector allocation, and security selection. We seek to reduce volatility through allocation of risk across all of these variables.

Portfolio Construction

The portfolio is constructed with high-quality, U.S. dollar-denominated securities. Primary consideration is given to numerous and diverse value-adding opportunities using duration management, yield curve positioning, sector allocation, and security selection. We can and do make major shifts in our sector allocations to take advantage of short-term market conditions. Duration is closely managed to +/-25% of the benchmark duration. We believe this allows us to take advantage of opportunities while managing volatility. While securities will generally have an average maturity between 3 and 7 years at time of purchase, the fund may take a temporary defensive position in response to adverse market, economic, political, or other conditions which would not be consistent with the stated range.
